THE MODERN UNIVERSITY

DISTINGUISHED SPEAKERS

[special to the Gazette

Denver April 19—The [illegible] meeting of the Candle Light Club was held at the Brown Palace hotel tonight [illegible] attendance was [illegible] large [illegible] taxed the capacity of the dining room to the utmost. Many persons were unable to gain admittance. The [illegible] was the guests of the club and the special program prepared [illegible] been arranged through the efforts of Attorney F. W. Bonfils, secretary of the club. [illegible] for the evening was "The Modern University and Its Relation to American Citizenship." William F. Slocum of Colorado college, William J. Tucker of Dartmouth college, President Wilson of Princeton and Rev. Hutchinson Taylor of Denver.

[illegible] Bryant as toastmaster [illegible] gowned in the [illegible] He introduced the speakers in complimentary terms, referring to addresses [illegible] in the history of the college with the wise counsel of President Patton as recalled. [illegible] Bryant [illegible] was [illegible] with the [illegible] of the university. He declared that the function of the university is to send out into society [illegible] not [illegible] Latin [illegible] and [illegible] but [illegible] fundamentals of education. In these subjects the students are taught [illegible] teachers. Later in life [illegible] is a time for the minute study of many of the other subjects [illegible] world. Too much time is given [illegible] little better than fourth grade [illegible] Gibbons [illegible] than to dig up some obscure subject for a special thesis for the [illegible] adding to the sum total of human knowledge. Still the spirit of advanced research is worthy of admiration. The secrets of the world have not all been unlocked, but not many men have the power of finding out something new for the world's knowledge, while most of us have the ability to learn something from those who have the power. In organizing a university there is great difficulty in fixing the point where the multiplication of special schools and departments [illegible] separation of one other, and there is no [illegible] specially but are [illegible] drawn [illegible] the [illegible] education for the [illegible] and professions. Here was the modern doctrine of utilitarianism which is absorbing education. [illegible] function of a university is rather to [illegible] fundamental questions which [illegible] to all subjects and not to go [illegible] specialties and so on [illegible] great defect in the present system. It must in part at least be curtailed to an intellectual consensus. All culture ends in [illegible]

President Tucker [illegible] the second speaker of the evening. He was greeted with Dartmouth yell. In opening he referred to the fact that all of the educational institutions of the Anglo-Saxon race were instinct with patriotism. This is especially true with American institutions. Our colleges [illegible] the [illegible] of our national wealth [illegible] the power of science. The [illegible] of Eastern America [illegible] the French [illegible] the College [illegible] the spirit of modern [illegible] of the modern college must be [illegible] that democracy is democracy clear [illegible] Democracy that says [illegible] "You are as good as I am [illegible] mental Democracy that says [illegible] must and shall be as good as I [illegible] is educational. You strike at the heart of citizenship in intellectual life [illegible] the business of colleges to teach principles and show how to apply them. Colleges should send out men [illegible] who will restore political [illegible] making politics honorable. In politics [illegible] be merely priced, reform must [illegible] lay hold of politics at first hand and cultivate the science of government. It is [illegible] to be merely education from books. I am sick of the sentiment all around about the scholars in politics who [illegible] politics must become [illegible] devoted to the business of the states welfare.

Chairman Bryant introduced President Slocum of the Colorado College [illegible] daily receive [illegible] with several witty stories of excellent application. He declared that only the best institutions in the country [illegible] present [illegible] political and industrial affairs. Only the wisest and most far sighted leadership can direct us properly in present exigency. We are no confronted by many intricate problems growing out of our complex political problems critical [illegible] to us. We have only begun to face the vast difficulties before us. We need men who have been trained to think and act politically. We [illegible] when a nation to the flank that things will finally come out all right though blind destiny. This principle has been the devil in political affairs in all times and works only ruin. It will work ruin for us. It cannot take the place of wise leadership. There never was a time when we so much needed brave men who seek the truth and know how to apply it. We need clear vision to think out our every day problems. We can not [illegible] our [illegible] and [illegible] thinker to point out the straight road. Not politicians do we want but men who make the state affairs a business not power and reverence for their own state, but for the service of our country should be the motto of the following graduates. It is man of self sacrifice who must be the leader in these battles of the nations. It is men who work and trade and care above to think through our political problems who can lead our nation through these [illegible] It is the duty of our young men to fit themselves so that they can serve our country by being the deepest [illegible] sincerity and courage are the virtues it must be the foundation of our government.

[illegible] Bradley of the evening [illegible] among other things he said

Colleges can not remain cloistered [illegible] and women. They must give [illegible] action. Like the gulf stream colleges must be [illegible] national life. We have a surfeit of national self consciousness. Let us see to it that no injury overtakes the common wealth. Our conservatism has been our great protection. The universities [illegible] party and principle [illegible] given place to party and spoils. Reform is more than a fad. Civil administration must be studied. The college must supply the power to slay the spoils system. It must stand for healthy growth and expose all half truths. It must stand for progress and right [illegible] It must find the truth between conservatism and radicalism in politics and religion.

After the meeting had adjourned an opportunity was given for all to meet the distinguished guests.

The menu of the banquet was as follows:

Blue Points
Cream of Chicken
Olives Radishes
Tenderloin of Beef and Baked Potatoes
Lyman Lunch
Roast Squabs on Toast
Head Lettuce Salad

GOOD RESULT EXPECTED AT HOME AND ABROAD

Washington April 19—It is believed [illegible] administration that the [illegible] of Aguinaldo will have a decidedly good effect both in the Philippines and in this country. It will take some time for the dissemination among the Filipinos but it is expected to be of considerable good and to make more easily the improvement in the situation which is set in some time ago and which has been much marked of late. Special gratification is felt at the universal tone of the document and the [illegible] it indicates of American rule. This it is felt will bring to the support of the government many Filipinos who, wishing for peace have [illegible] to assist the Taft [illegible]

In this country it is expected to reduce the criticism of the administration and to cause less discussion of the [illegible] policy of the war and the [illegible] and more consideration of the important [illegible] It is thought that the Taft commission is now bending all its energies. Aguinaldo now that he has accepted American sovereignty probably will [illegible] enjoyed hitherto. His services will be used as far as possible in the pacification of the islands. The extent however to which he will be permitted his free tom is for General MacArthur to determine with the assistance of the Taft commission. The aim of the home government are said to be to rest largely upon the Filipinos themselves by its representatives in the [illegible] with the issue of the manifesto at Manila. Secretary Root [illegible] the copy received from General MacArthur. This came to hand on the 16th of April and differs slightly in phraseology from that [illegible] Manila. General MacArthur informed the department at that time that the manifesto had been prepared by Aguinaldo with the assistance only of the two staff officers who were with him at the time he was captured. Secretary Root declined to be interviewed on the subject of the manifesto further than to say that it was dignified in tone and admirably constructed.

NEWS TOPICS FROM DENVER

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Denver April 19—Governor Orman of Colorado Springs was a member of the state board of examiners and had also appointed Chas T Johnson of Durango Justice of the peace of Ouray county and Joseph Hoge of the city of Denver notary public. Governor Orman will confer with a similar commission from the state of New Mexico and the two will endeavor to fix the boundary between the two states.

The governor signed H B No 54 which fixes a penalty for selling liquor in counties outside of incorporated towns or cities without having a license therefor. The bill provides a penalty of not less than $40 nor more than $100 for its violation.

During the day he vetoed H B No 4 by Mr Manon regulating the sale of liquor on dining and buffet cars. In his veto message the governor says:

House bill No 4 is an act concerning the issuance of licenses for the sale of spirituous and vinous liquors and provides for the issuance of buffet car upon any railroad within the state of Colorado.

"Section 20 of house bill No 3, which is now a law provides that every person, company or corporation selling any malt vinous or spirituous liquors shall in addition to other fees exacted by law pay to the treasurer of any municipality in the state of Colorado an annual license fee of $500 for each and every saloon restaurant hotel cultivated liquor store or other place where any liquors shall be sold.

"This license is issued by the state treasurer and covers no doubt the selling or buffet cars on railroads operated within the state. The method of obtaining the mileage of cars to be taxed for ordinary taxation and also the basis of taxation in the case of these cars is somewhat involved and would seem to place an unwarranted burden upon railroads operating such cars which are for the convenience and benefit of patrons and frequently operated at a loss to the railroad corporation."

For the reasons above stated I herewith transmit said house bill No 4 to the secretary of state without its signature.

MRS RATCLIFFE DISMISSED

The trial of Mrs M A Ratcliffe charged with illegal voting was held in Justice Hyers court this morning. In the opinion of the justice the evidence failed to support the charge that had been made and the case was dismissed. Senator Rush was her counsel and Senator Hines had charge of the prosecution. RUMOR DENIED

A report was circulated on the streets here today that the Denver Lakewood and Golden railroad had been sold to a Cripple Creek party. The officers of the road emphatically deny the report. The road is only 16 miles long and runs from here to Golden. Part of the line is operated by electricity and part by steam.

The report that some syndicate has purchased it is circulated at every three months and no doubt there is merit in another such report.

Arbor day was celebrated today in Denver at nearly all the schools. A large number of trees were planted and in many instance special programmes had been prepared. At the East Denver high school the annual tree was planted. This time it was in the southeast corner of the lawn.

DERIVATION OF GRAPE-NUTS

Contains Neither Grapes nor Nuts.

Thought was applied and experiments conducted for about two years seeking to perfect a food easy for the intestinal digestion and yet make use of the carbohydrates albumen and phosphate of potash obtained from the cereals.

Success came and luckily the scientific food was found to have a most delicious and delicate flavor, that of grape sugar to be seen glistening on the granules. That suggested the first part of the now famous name. The last part "Nuts" is purely fanciful the compound word Grape Nuts being a coined word having no actual meaning of necessary feature to conform to the rules of the Patent Office on the registration of trade marks.

The passenger train left here at 9:00 o'clock this morning and had reached the top of the mountain when the two engines met. The passenger train had the right of way and should have waited at Villa Vista but the engineer of the freight engine was under the impression that he could reach the top of the mountain before the passenger train arrived. The grade is very steep and the engineer of the freight engine was unable to see the passenger train on account of the curves in the road. Just at this place there was a 20 foot curve and at the scene of the accident it was almost impossible to see a train more than fifty feet ahead. The place where the accident occurred is seven miles from Florence.

The track was not spread nor otherwise damaged but the two engines were badly damaged. Wrecking engine in front of the boiler of both engines were broken in. The pilots were both broken off and rods and other parts were twisted in many directions.

THE BAILEY MURDER TRIAL

Special to the Gazette

Boulder April 19—W Sloan and Mrs Crane were the only witnesses heard at the morning session of the Bailey murder trial. Sloan's principal testimony was that Mitchell one of the defendants had made threats previous to the murder that if the mine were not paid they would go up to Bailey's house and burn him.

Mrs Crane was self possessed while on the stand. An attempt was made by the defense to have her tell of the relations that existed between her and Norman Bailey. The court held that this was not competent evidence.

Mrs Crane told the story of the killing in detail. She said that in the crowd which came to her house that night of the arrest were Mitchell, West, Roswell, Lenard and Ollie. They argued with Bailey but their way. Then Lenard stood guard at the settling of the house while the shooting lasted Bailey, Mrs Bailey was shot while trying to put out the fire.

The afternoon session of the court opened with a large attendance. Dr Harrison of Denver was put on the stand. He testified that he had examined the wound and extracted several fragments of bone shortly after the killing. He said that he did not amputate the arm because Mr Bailey had requested that it not be done and the result of the examination was made known to him. Attorney Stanton explained the arm and said it to be a state of affection. Cross examination of the witness did not develop that death would have been less probable had an amputation been made at first. When questioned concerning the condition of the lungs Dr Harrison testified that it did not appear like pneumonia.

D Quesel of Boulder was next called on the stand to be present at the post mortem examination. The witness described the condition of the infected arm. He considered that death from pneumonia. Lasky for the defendants cross questioned the witness and by a series of indirect questions endeavored to force the witness to express his opinion as to the probable results if amputation had been resorted to. The answers were for the most part to be committed as Dr Quesel maintained that he was not put to the stand for examination.

Mrs Bird was then sworn in. The prosecution asked whether or not Fred Mitchell one of the prisoners had on November 18 last brandished a gun from her premises. Witness replied that if he did she was not aware of it. This appeared quite unexpected for District Attorney Patton then asked the witness if she were aware of the exact nature of an oath. The question was objected to as being irrelevant. After considerable discussion the objection was sustained. The court also ruled that no one speak but at the three days more will be occupied in the hearing of witnesses alone.

THE SNOW SLIDE

The details of the horrible catastrophe which occurred on the C & N yesterday afternoon are now coming in. It seems that besides the crew Otis Bosian of Kalamazoo Mich was on the engine. He had gone ahead with the snow plow to see if it was on. Some curious circumstance he escaped unhurt. Conductor Reed was back on the track some distance and consequently his life was not endangered. A large force of men is now working over since the wreck and so far the remains of three men Fitzgerald Hammond and Miner have been recovered. The bodies were found neither headless nor mangled and it is therefore certain that death resulted from suffocation. The remains of Conductor Muir still lie beneath the debris. Engineer Nimke is at the University hospital and is improving. It is thought he will recover. Willard Sears and wife went up to Fraser this morning and found their son Oliver in a much less dangerous condition than at first reported. Mrs Miner wife of one of the victims arrived on the scene of the disaster this morning and is prostrated with grief. Her husband is the sixth relative that has met death by a railway accident.

RUSSIAN GIRL ACQUITTED

Paris April 19—Great interest was taken here in the trial of Vera Gelo a Russian girl student who was charged with trying to assassinate Professor Emile Deschanel the aged senator and father of the president of the chamber of deputies on Jan 16 by firing a revolver at him just as he concluded a lecture on French literature at the college of France. She was acquitted tonight. The interest in the case was heightened by the fact that Vera Gelo who interrupted her own lecture and Professor Deschanel at the time and received a bullet in her cheek died in the hospital after lingering some time in agony. Professor Deschanel fragments of bone shortly after the shooting. He said that he did not amputate the arm because Mr Bailey had requested that it not be done and the result of the examination was made known to him. Attorney Stanton explained the arm and said it to be a state of affection. Cross examination of the witness did not develop that death would have been less probable had an amputation been made at first. When questioned concerning the condition of the lungs Dr Harrison testified that it did not appear like pneumonia.

Dr Quesel of Boulder was next called on the stand to be present at the post mortem examination. The witness described the condition of the infected arm. He considered that death from pneumonia. Lasky for the defendants cross questioned the witness and by a series of indirect questions endeavored to force the witness to express his opinion as to the probable results if amputation had been resorted to. The answers were for the most part to be committed as Dr Quesel maintained that he was not put to the stand for examination.

Mrs Bird was then sworn in. The prosecution asked whether or not Fred Mitchell one of the prisoners had on November 18 last brandished a gun from her premises. Witness replied that if he did she was not aware of it. This appeared quite unexpected for District Attorney Patton then asked the witness if she were aware of the exact nature of an oath. The question was objected to as being irrelevant. After considerable discussion the objection was sustained. The court also ruled that no one speak but at the three days more will be occupied in the hearing of witnesses alone.

THE BRITISH BUDGET

THE property in Great Britain will find fresh ammunition in the budget statement that was presented to the house of commons on Thursday last. An increase of $10,000,000 a deficit of $30,000,000, an increase of 17 per cent. in the income tax, a tariff on sugar molasses and glucose and an export duty on coal and a proposition to suspend the sinking fund and to borrow about $100,000,000 are items that will be welcome to British taxpayers of British [illegible].

The deficit is more than accounted for by the $200,000,000 that is set down as the expenses of the war in South Africa and the $15,000,000 for the war in China.

So far the people of England have been practically unanimous to push the war in South Africa to a conclusion at all hazards and without regard to expense and the decision of parliament was an overwhelming [illegible] Salisbury and Chamberlain. But budgets sometimes have a power of oratory that is not possessed by political speechmakers and it would not be at all surprising if the confessions of the chancellor of the exchequer would result in an increase in the strength of the opposition most unwelcome to his majesty's ministers.

It would seem also that the time is particularly inopportune for any proposal of fresh grants for royalty. The British taxpayer is not in a complaisant mood as the cost of living and however loyal he may feel toward King Edward the proposition for additional millions for the ornamental head of the government is not a particularly attractive one.

HALF A BILLION IN BANK

IN STRIKING contrast with the deficit of $30,000,000 reported by the British chancellor of the exchequer is the statement of the American secretary that the amount of gold in the treasury now surpasses all previous records and is in excess of $500,000,000. Of this vast sum $200,000,000 is held as a redemption fund for gold certificates in the hands of the public and $150,000,000 as a reserve against outstanding United States notes while the balance of nearly $100,000,000 is what is known as free gold that is to say that there is no specific purpose for which it is set aside.

It is not entirely certain however that the presence of such a large sum of gold in the treasury is a good thing for the country. The millions held in reserve to secure the payment on demand of outstanding certificates and notes seem to be made use of through their representatives but it may be doubted whether so large a reserve is necessary. By way of contrast, in 1896 a month before President McKinley was inaugurated the gold holdings of the government amounted to less than $150,000,000. Our present condition is certainly preferable to the one then existing and it is not to be supposed that the treasury officials find it difficult to get rid of the gold. Business is good there is no doubt of the ability [illegible] and it makes very little difference to the average citizen except as a matter of pure convenience whether he gets his money in gold silver or paper. Even the bondholder clings to the securities that pay him scarcely more than one per cent a year and refuses to surrender them at the premium that the secretary of the treasury is authorized to pay.

And large as this gold reserve may appear it is not out of proportion to the size and greatness of our country. A hundred millions of dollars may well have a half billion of gold in its national strong box at the flood time of its prosperity and it is probable that every dollar of that enormous sum could in case of national danger be spent without shattering our national credit beyond repair or plunging us into the depths of repudiation and bankruptcy. No other nation in the world could do as much.

THE CHINESE REBELLION

IF GENERAL LI HUAN TING were anything but a Chinaman there might be some hopes of him. He might learn by experience or he might learn by observation or in some other way it might be possible to infuse a proper amount of intelligence into that oriental being. A Chinaman with an unbounded ignorance of everything outside his own immediate vicinity and a profound contempt for all foreign devils without regard for minor distinctions of race or nationality Li Huan Ting may be naturally expected to do all the mischief he can and in particular to play hob whatever that is with the carefully arranged plans of the representatives of the seven powers in China.

Whether Li has the sanction of the emperor or the empress or both of them is a mystery and it is likely to remain so. It is not an open question whether Tai An was at the head of the Boxer movement or whether it was a revolt against her authority. If the powers cannot guess that riddle after the time they have had for it they had better [illegible] Anyhow it does not make much difference. Li may have the backing of the empress or he may simply be engaged in the obviously natural task of looking out for himself in the way he is what the strategists call effective and the powers are after him. This involves more expense more killing probably more looting and in the end more claims for indemnity and demands against China.

If Li were in the pay of the divisionists he could not be playing the game better for those who desire any kind of a pretext to keep the foreign troops in China as long as possible.

Another proof of the constant growth in importance of Pacific trade is given by the announcement that the steamers of the Northern Pacific line will be replaced by larger and swifter vessels. The new line of American build and will contribute both before and after their construction to the promotion of American industry and commerce.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA DEMOCRACY.

ONE of the most encouraging political signs of the times is the revolt in the southern states against the Demo-Populism that is represented by such leaders as Tillman in South Carolina and Davis in Arkansas. The effect of the restrictive laws and practices in the southern states has been not only to crush out the colored vote but also to give the control of the various state governments to the most radical elements of the Democracy. The old line Democrats of the south the men who by tradition and character are accustomed to lead in political affairs the men who are conservative and educated and who have a strong sentiment of patriotism have seen themselves thrust aside to make room for demagogues whose source of power was their ability to sway the passions of the ignorant to organize the ku klux and the red shirts, and to pose as the friends and the advocates of the unsuccessful.

Unable to establish itself in opposition to Democracy in the southern states Populism boldly invaded the Democratic organization and finally found itself able to dictate the policy and the candidates of that party and at the present time Populism under the guise of Democracy by means of the Democratic disfranchisement laws controls the politics of the south.

But the time of reaction against Populism has come in the south as well as in the west. Senator McLaurin of South Carolina has already given evidence of his sentiments and there is good reason to believe that a large number of former Democratic leaders are ready to take the step of organizing a formal opposition to the elements now in control of the Democratic party of the south. A strong element in this movement is undoubtedly the spirit of national patriotism that has been aroused by the late war against Spain for the Bryan Democracy has been in its expressed sentiments so strongly anti American that it has not been possible for the fellow citizens of Lee and Hol[illegible] to conceal their disgust with the Democratic national platform.

A typical southern Democrat of the new line is John Capers of South Carolina who has recently been appointed as United States district attorney for that state by President McKinley. The Chicago Record Herald contains a statement of Mr Capers politics that is especially interesting in this connection.

> I am not so vain as to suppose that my appointment as district attorney for South Carolina will make any great difference in the political affairs of the state said John Capers thoughtfully but I am sure that it will be gratifying to a large class of young men who like myself have become dissatisfied with the policy and the platform of the Democratic party and are seeking more congenial political associations. My family have always been Democrats and I was more or less active as a member of that party until the Chicago convention of 1896. With many others in my state I could not indorse the platform or support the nominees because we have no sympathy with the Populistic ideas they represent. The Kansas City convention of 1900 having renominated the candidates for president and reaffirmed the platform of the previous campaign we were again compelled to reject the ticket and we decided to support the Republican candidate. I contributed all that I could to the election of President McKinley. I spent six weeks on the stump in the [illegible] Maryland and [illegible] and I suppose that I am now reckoned as a Republican. At least I expect in the future to act with that party because it represents progressive ideas and a patriotic policy.
> I cannot say anything about a movement to organize a white Republican party in South Carolina although I can say that the Democratic organization and its leaders no longer command the respect and confidence of the better classes of our people and its national policy is repudiated by the commercial interests and the intelligent and enlightened sentiment of the state. I hope that we shall be able to organize a Republican party in South Carolina that will be a credit to it and represent the best elements of that community. I am not a political leader, but I shall do everything in my power to promote the movement. I have no fear of negro supremacy. That danger is passed and it cannot be used any longer by the politicians to create public sentiment and excite prejudice against the Republican organization.
> [illegible] Laurin said Mr Capers in conclusion. He is able to speak for himself and I understand that he intends to do so next Thursday at the meeting of the Cotton Manufacturers association at Charlotte N C. From what I have heard of Senator McLaurin's intentions I am sure he will leave no doubt as to his political attitude.

The outcome of this new political movement in the south will naturally depend somewhat upon the action of the national Democracy. If the gold Democrats should gain control of the organization and fusionism and Populism should be repudiated the conservative southern Democrats would doubtless prefer to keep their places in the Democratic ranks. But if the Bryan men retain their leadership and the Bryan principles remain as the creed of Democracy it is certain that in the near future the solid south will be broken and Republicanism established on a permanent basis as the political policy of the better element among the southern people.

THE POSTAL SHIRT WAIST.

THE announcement by the postoffice department that letter carriers may be allowed to wear shirt waist sleeves no to be dismissed with no more than a passing thought. The recognition of the shirt waist by the United States government is an event of importance and one that may have far reaching consequences.

Having earned official approval as a part of the civil service uniform it is not probable that even the newspaper humorists will hereafter deride the shirt waist or consider it to be apparel fit only for the gentler sex. If a postman may wear a shirt waist surely the iceman may do the same and where the iceman may venture the ice cream and the grocery man and so it not be denied. More than this if the shirt waist is to be a part of the uniform of the letter carrier there is no good reason why it should not also become a part of the clothing of the regular soldier. The necessities of tropical service brought about the use of khaki which in its way was as much of a novelty as the chambray recommended to letter carriers. If the shirt waist could bring any additional comfort or convenience to our brave boys in the Philippines we feel sure that the American people could not deny it to them. Not only that but this latest fruit of civilization might be made a most powerful inducement in winning the allegiance of the dissatisfied Filipinos. It is quite probable for instance that Aguinaldo might have been brought into line at least two months sooner if he had been promised the pleasure of wearing a shirt waist without restriction as to color and Funston clad in a handkerchief might go from one end of Luzon to the other an object of admiration or of devotion to the awe struck natives.

Our thanks are due to the postoffice department for the shirt waist postman. Long may he wave and in the face of this official sanction let calumny against civil and wearers of this same garment forever cease.

FROM THE PRESS OF THE NATION.

The Cuban Situation

(Hartford Courant)

William E. Curtis, the well known Washington correspondent in discussing the situation in Cuba says that discussion has been due to the ignorance of the people a large percentage of the Cubans being unable to read and write and so easily led by demagogues. Curtis says the situation is that the resolutions stand without action and that the next step will probably be the appointment of a committee to visit the United States and confer with the president and congress. It is point blank that after all it is probably the best thing for Cuba that their convention was unable to agree because if it had ratified and accepted the conditions named by our congress it would have been necessary for the president to withdraw the United States troops from Cuban soil and every one knows that this would immediately precipitate trouble. The Cubans have work and [illegible] Cuba must be protected from himself for a time. [illegible] of about 1,000,000 or three fourths as many people as [illegible] and of these 900,000 are natives 400,000 are foreign whites 400,000 are pure blooded negroes 850,000 are half breeds and 400,000 are Chinese. More than 60 per cent of the entire population are unable to read or write and the ignorance is pitiful. Easily influenced, subject to great excitement and fond of military [illegible] they are led by a lot of scheming demagogues and the continued presence of American soldiers in the island is the only thing preventing each other [illegible] pieces. Curtis says that Gomez alone is the only true friend the Cubans have in the world. Gomez is for the Cubans and that the [illegible] of an Dominico and Hayti would be repeated if the Americans now left the island.

Suicide and the Weather

(St Joseph Gazette Herald)

In the current Popular Science Monthly Professor Edwin Dexter of the University of Illinois shows that the generalization of the coroners as to many [illegible] are fallacious. Professor Dexter tabulated data for five years the suicide and other records of New York city. In these 1,826 days there were 2,945 suicidal attempts of which 1,665 succeeded. From these tabulations Professor Dexter deduces certain conclusions as to the [illegible] which lead New Yorkers to end their existence.

He finds that suicide is excessive above the normal in cooler rather cloudy days generally considered pleasant and exhilarating. More suicides occur on clear and dry than on wet and cloudy days. The favorite months for self destruction are from April to August inclusive. Excessive heat or cold raises the suicide percentage but the greatest number of [illegible] are found during the most agreeable temperatures. More than the normal number kill themselves when the thermometer registers from 45 to 70 degrees and less than the normal when it is from 70 to 85.

Professor Dexter thinks the only plausible explanation is that of contrast. Suicide is nearly always premeditated. Despair referred as hopelessness arises from the unfortunate circumstances which a cold storm of winter in the hope that when nature smiles happiness will return. Spring and summer come with their life and brightness but bring no relief. The contrast of the bleakness of winter with the [illegible] gloom is too much for the weary spirit and it abandons the struggle.

A Rebuke to Mr Bryan

(Boston Herald)

The result of the municipal election in St Louis remarkable in more than one respect is not the least significant in the lesson it may impress to Mr William J. Bryan. It says in effect to him that his interference as a meddler and a marplot in the party to which he professes to belong is an impertinence that is resented and that this party exists for a more important purpose than to gratify his resentments. The rebuke to Mr Bryan included in the crushing defeat of the [illegible] party in the municipal campaign outside this state is the more significant because the arrogance he exhibited here if it does not eliminate him altogether from significance as a political factor. The Herald has been disposed to treat Mr Bryan personally with courtesy and kindliness and to make allowance for the bearing under harsh attacks in the late presidential campaign as well as his general fairness toward opponents seemed to merit such consideration but since the election was held the change in his spirit has been an important one in his spirit. If [illegible] and his personal consequence whose events should have taught him modesty rather and his attempt to obtain [illegible] for those [illegible] to support him last year which [illegible] verse judgment. It is hard to believe that Mr Bryan could ever have had the opportunity to lead his party again in a presidential contest but there will have been a diminishment of distinction in it for him had he shown a spirit of pride exhibited as he has made in the St Louis [illegible] speech. It is costly on the road to political suicide.

Moravian Easter Customs

No social or moral force has as yet been strong enough to destroy or even weaken the individuality of the Moravian religion or to mar its unique observances waning in pomp and ritual only [illegible] simplicity and original expressiveness writes Rufus Wilson in the April Ledger Monthly.

At 3 o'clock on Easter morning the loud penetrating tones of the trombone broke the stillness of the early hours. The trombone players had begun their Easter rounds. Starting from the church having played an opening carol on its old fashioned steps they marched through the sleeping town and across the river into South Bethlehem making stations at places especially identified with Moravianism and joyously proclaiming the dawning of Easter. Soon in lead the pattering of countless feet upon the slate pavements. The faithful are hastening to the church for seats will be scarce by the time [illegible] vice. Being among the laggards we are able to reach only the innermost pulse door where we have a view of the pulpit platform decorated for the festival, the white of lilies and the green of palms showing out as a background of Florida moss. When the service begins the church is filled and so are all the approaches.

An anthem by the choir a brief litany and a hymn or two then the clergymen preceded by the trombones pass [illegible] and the congregation follows being joined as they march by those who fill the approaches to the church and by the curious folk whom train and trolley have brought from the neighboring towns slowly upward moves the procession toward the graveyard lying on the ridge of the hill the solemn notes of the trombones growing more cheerful as it passes through the cemetery gates for as the choirs of the tallest trees catch the first kisses of the Easter sun.

The priests with uncovered heads [illegible] prayer and two hymns the bishop pronounces the words of the apostolic grace and the services are over. Later in the morning the [illegible] Easter liturgy is rendered in the church with great musical effect. The services for the rest of the day [illegible] but fall far behind the earlier greeting of the festal day in the impression of personal faith and devotion which the morning service never fails to leave upon those who year by year come from various parts of the country to attend it. On Easter Monday there are [illegible] and other social functions and penitent Bethlehem throws off its sackcloth.

Value of the Foot Bath

A warm bath and cold which certainly dispenses the face of beauty as well as a valuable ready help in the removal of facial [illegible] as the nightly foot bath is invaluable. The largest sweat glands of the body are located in the palms of the hands and soles of the feet. It is of importance that these multitudinous outlets should be unclogged. Where facial eruption exists and the whole attention is devoted to it the care of the face every pore is active and effort to afford the cause of clogging impurities. This is all wrong. The feet should be made the gateways for the escape of effete deposits. The temperature of the foot bath should range from one hundred and five to one hundred and ten degrees and it can be enhanced with comfort. To all other sensual chronic profuse and offensive perspiration add a lump of washing soda to the extra [illegible] dissolved. The feet should be rubbed briskly to draw the blood down to the extremities. Cool the water before withdrawing the feet so that they may [illegible] be subjected to [illegible] long and thoroughly with a reflection of cool superficial circulation and [illegible] and chill. Frequent warm foot baths [illegible] pleasure [illegible] and make [illegible] take extreme [illegible] care of the feet—(Stella Stuart in April Ledger Monthly).

WORK ON THE ALSA R.

Lessees Are Now Prepared to Profit by Strike Made Two Months Ago--Ore in the Golconda Property.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, April 19.—Hayworth & McDonald have resumed work on the Alsa R. claim of the Golden Dale company on the east slope of Raven hill. The lessees made a good strike in the property about two months ago and [illegible] up for some six weeks through litigation instigated by sub-lessees. The injunction, which was obtained against the lessees, has been dissolved and ore will now be raised for a shipment to be sent out in the early future.

The Eclipse company has received returns on the first two car loads of ore sent out since the resumption of production from the property, while the third carload is expected to tomorrow. The ore was settled for at a little over one ounce in gold to the ton. Another shipment is being prepared which consists of 25 tons, to be sent out in a few days.

Stump, Allison & Meyer, leasing the Whisper of the old Sovereign, and a strip of Dante ground adjoining, have drifted into the Dante territory on the second, third, fourth and seventh levels. All of the levels were in ore, although, as the Dante strip is a very small acreage, the interest is now practically exhausted. Further drifts are now being run with the expectation of finding the continuation of the ore shoot.

The Golconda company, owning property in Victor, has opened up ore in the 350-foot level of the mine. The ore shoot, which has been developed at the 400-foot depth, is of good width and the ore, about 18 feet long. Ten tons of ore have already been saved from the upper level and will be sent out in a trial shipment this week.

Selback & Miller, who are now operating the Bent & Davis lease on the Gold Sovereign, have commenced extensive work and will sink the shaft 50 feet deeper, taking it to the 600-foot level at once.

The production from the Trachyte has been increased to about 200 tons a month. The lower grade of the ore runs $30 to the ton and the better grade about $60.

It is expected that the new compressor on the Last Dollar mine will be in operation by the last of the month. The air will be supplied to the lessees of the Buxton block. They will resume operations as soon as the compressor is in place.

W. F. CROSBY WAS SUCCESSFUL

In Four Months in Boston and New York He Floated a Large Amount of Stock--Ready Money for Promising Promotions.

W. F. Crosby, secretary and treasurer of the Crosby-Ehrich syndicate, returned yesterday from a four months' business trip to Boston and New York, and reports that he met with decided success in raising capital in the interests of a Deadwood mine.

"Money conditions in the east," said Mr. Crosby, in conversation with a representative of the Gazette yesterday, "are extremely favorable for the promotion of legitimate mining propositions. While it is very true that the great activity of the New York market [illegible] which might, under different circumstances, be diverted to the local market, there is at the same time an abundance of money ready for mining schemes of a promising sort. In other words, while the money for the purchase of [illegible] stocks abroad, floated in Cripple Creek in New York, the eastern investors are ready to invest in new shares, when they represent good development propositions and are properly presented.

"The whole country is making money, and the prosperity of the east is especially great, and consequently investments may be said to be at a premium. Money is remarkably free, there being large amounts of it available at low rates of interest for investment and speculation.

"When New York stocks reach a stationary point, or show some reaction, it is probable that money will not be so readily lent, which will tend to lessen speculation. Then it is very reasonable to suppose that some of the profits which have been made in New York will come into the local market."

HOOSIER WILL SHIP HEAVILY

A Recent Shipment of 50 Tons Ran $183 in Gold to the Ton--Timbering the Shaft to the 400-foot Level.

The Hoosier mine is preparing to make a very large output just as soon as the shaft, which is now complete to the 400-foot point, is timbered up. Lateral work has already been started in this level from the new shaft, and the vein is showing up remarkably well.

As an illustration of the value of the ore, a recent shipment, consisting of 50 tons, from which returns have just been received, returned values of $183 in gold to the ton, and this grade is not supposed to be the highest which can be taken out from the ore now in sight.

When the new shaft was started, a site was selected directly over a winze, which had been put down for some distance below the 200-foot level, the vein having, at this point, straightened up. When the shaft reached this point, it made only a vertical connection clear to the surface, and after sinking was resumed in the bottom of the winze, the 400-foot point was soon reached.

The winze was begun in fine ore, and the grade has constantly improved as the sinking has progressed. The ore is of a very good width, and some assays are obtained which run extremely high. The management has made no attempt at production at all, confining all the energies to getting the large tunnel-compartment to the present depth; but now, it is stated, the Hoosier mine will be one of the important producers of the camp.

This fact is of the utmost importance to the mining interests of Tenderfoot hill. It has long been understood that the Hoosier was a larger mine than it was popularly supposed to be, but very little information has, previous to now, been obtainable.

The activity on Tenderfoot hill is just beginning. The Colorado Electric Power company has conferred a favor on all operators in this vicinity by extending its wires here; and from now on, Tenderfoot will vie with Galena as the most promising prospective section of the camp.

Not only will the Hoosier start a large production when the shaft is all timbered, but it is the intention to thoroughly prospect the ground at this depth, running crosscuts in several directions. The mine belongs to the Grafton Gold Mining company, which is a desultory dividend payer.

GOOD ORE IN THE COMSTOCK

Lessee Lusher, operating the Comstock claim of the Spotlight Gold Mining company, is meeting with signal success in sinking on the vein which he recently opened in trenching. The shaft is now down to a depth of about 45 feet, and the entire width of the quartz vein, nearly four feet, assays $20 in gold to the ton. The lessee is not attempting to save any ore, however, as he has no ore bins erected, and is not disposed to do any lateral work in opening up the shoot until the 100-foot point is reached. This vein was cut at grass roots, and the ore has been constantly improving in value as sinking has progressed. Picked samples from the vein yield very high assays, and a higher grade of ore is expected before the 100-foot point is reached.

It is the Solitaire company which owns the lease on the Cripple Creek Columbia, in addition to a large acreage on Carbonate hill. It is thought that the vein which Lusher has opened up is an extension of the Moose vein, as the Comstock adjoins the Moose, and the trend of the lead in Comstock ground corresponds to the direction of the Moose property.

100 TONS FROM FANNY RAWLINGS

Word was received yesterday morning at the offices of the Fanny Rawlings company that shipments will begin from the mine on Monday next, April 22.

On that day two lots of 50 tons each will be sent out. One of these is expected to return values of $70 net, and the other will probably return something like $20 net, according to the assays which have been taken by Superintendent Robinson of the South Wannie Leasing company.

The new strike at a depth of 205 feet from the surface is showing up very well. Development work is progressing rapidly, and the shoot has now been opened up sufficiently to indicate that it will be a permanent and valuable one. Mining men in Leadville are unanimous in conceding this strike to be one of the most important made in the district for some time.

DEVELOPMENT OF HAPPY YEAR STRIKE

The strike reported to have been made in the Happy Year claim belonging to the Central Consolidated company is said to be making a very good showing.

So far the ore discovered in the properties of this company has been somewhat crushed, but in this instance a really good strike is said to have been made.

The Happy Year claim is being worked by lessees who are developing the property by a tunnel. The vein is almost parallel to the tunnel and therefore was not cut by it. It was discovered however, by a crosscut and only six feet had to be driven. The lessees are Messrs. Harry Mills and George La Berge, well known miners who thoroughly know their business. They have already developed the ore shoot for a distance of 20 feet so that the recent strike has the appearance of some permanency.

A string of assays obtained from the ore shoot during the past few days was shown to a representative of the Gazette. They ran as follows: $20.40, $21.60, $4.80 and $232.80 per ton.

Lessee Worcester on the Unexpected, is said to be getting out a shipment, and it is thought that Messrs. Mills and La Berge will start one off in a day or so.

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

There was a report on the streets yesterday to the effect that the Moulder-Chessman defalcation had involved the affairs of the Gold Hill company to a more or less serious extent. This company was formerly in the control of the Moulder-Chessman house. It was learned, however, that the affairs of the company are in a very satisfactory condition. The company is in debt a few hundred dollars for labor, but the present board of directors propose to pay this off at once, as the company is amply supplied with treasury stock, having something over 500,000 shares. The affairs of the company are perfectly straight, and any stock

DOES NOT DISAPPOINT.

The New Discovery for Catarrh Seems to Possess Remarkable Merit.

A new catarrh cure has recently appeared which so far as tested has been remarkably successful in curing all forms of catarrh, whether in the head, throat, bronchial tubes, or in stomach and liver.

The remedy is in tablet form—pleasant and convenient to take, and no special secrecy is unfastened as to what it contains, the tablet being a scientific combination of Guaiacol, Eucalyptol, Sanguinaria, Hydrastin and similar valuable and harmless antiseptics.

The safe and effective catarrh cure may be found at any drug store under name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

Whether the catarrh is located in the nose, throat, bronchial tubes or stomach, the tablets seem to act with equal success, removing the stuffy feeling in head and nose, clearing the mucous membrane of throat and trachea from catarrhal secretions, which cause the tickling, coughing, hawking and gagging so annoying to every catarrh sufferer.

Nasal catarrh generally leads to ulceration in some cases to such an extent as to destroy the nose entirely and in many old cases of catarrh the bones of the head become diseased. Nasal catarrh gradually extends to the throat and bronchial tubes and very often to the stomach, causing that very obstinate trouble, catarrh of the stomach.

Catarrh is a systemic poison, inherent in the blood, and local washes, douches, snuffs, inhalers and sprays can have no effect on the real cause of the disease. An internal remedy which acts upon the blood is the only rational treatment and Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the perfect of all internal remedies, as well as the most convenient and satisfactory from a medical standpoint.

Dr. Eaton recently stated that he had successfully used Stuart's Catarrh Tablets in old chronic cases, even where ulceration had extended so far as to destroy the septum of the nose. He says: "I am pleasantly surprised almost every day by the excellent results from Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. It is remarkable how effectually they remove the excessive secretion and bring about a healthy condition of the mucous membranes of the nose, throat and stomach."

All druggists sell complete treatment of the tablets at 50 cents and a little book telling the symptoms and causes of the various forms of catarrh will be mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

overissue has been precluded by the fact that for a long time the stock has been registered with the International Trust company. The company intends to soon resume work on its own account on its Gold hill claims.

MISSOURI LESSEES ARE SAVING A SHIPMENT.

McConaghy and associates, leasing on the Moonlight claim of the Missouri company, are saving another shipment from the vein which they opened in the Good Will tunnel, and will market it within a few days. The vein has been opened for some distance and stoping is now being carried on. As the work proceeds it is evident that the find is of good proportions, and a recent shipment, which returned $40 in gold to the ton, indicates that the ore is of a very good pay value.

ELECTRIC WIRES NOW TO TENDERFOOT HILL.

The electric wires of the Colorado Electric Power company have now been extended to Tenderfoot hill, and connection was made yesterday with the Helen B. and Hard Carbonate properties. Shaft houses had already been erected on those claims and the hoists installed, all ready for the current when it should be turned on. This morning the operation of the hoists was started and the work of sinking on the two properties will be greatly facilitated. The property of the King [illegible] and Contact, with an electric hoist, and several other properties will be supplied with the power.

FIFTY TONS FROM THE SANTA RITA.

A shipment of 50 tons has just left the Santa Rita property on Squaw mountain under lease to the Atlantis Mines corporation. The consignment consisted of two grades, 50 tons running about $50 in gold to the ton, and the balance averaging a good smelting grade. This ore has been returning values of around $145 in gold to the ton. The sixth level of the mine is being opened as rapidly as possible, and the developments at this depth have been entirely satisfactory to the management. Attention was first attracted to the Santa Rita over a year ago, and since that time the mine has been making a showing which has well borne out the first assertions of the importance of the discovery of ore. The Atlantis Mines corporation will soon take up the bond on the property.

GOLDSTONE STOCKHOLDERS ARE URGED TO RESPOND.

E. A. Sunderlin, receiver for the Goldstone company, is receiving claims very slowly, although the 20th inst. has been named as the last day on which the claims of stockholders can be received. He reported yesterday morning that the large stockholders are filing their claims rapidly enough, but that the small holders, who are scattered as widely are very slow. The time for filing the complaints of all those who are stockholders in the company will likely be extended, but opportunity is taken here to urge all haste in this matter. It is important that as many claims as possible be received before suit is started in the overissue matter.

KING AND WHITING EXPERIENCE SOME WATER.

Owing to an annoying flow of water in the lower levels of the King and Whiting workings on the property of the Independence Consolidated company, the lessees have been obliged to confine their work to the levels above the 400-foot point. They are making a fair production, however, and the ore is still averaging about two ounces in gold to the ton. A shipment of 60 tons was marketed the first of the week. The company is prosecuting persistent development work, but only occasional shipments are made.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, April 19.—The market today on the local mining stock exchange evinced little strength or activity, although it is apparent that there are almost no declines in the course of the light trading which is done. The market is in a peculiarly sensitive condition, although the good news seems to be more effective than the bad. Two or three stocks are showing some strength on strike reports, while Elkton, which has every reason to decline, is remaining very firm, although there is a good deal of selling. A few buying orders have a very decided effect on a stock, as only very limited amounts are to be secured at the present market, and although selling orders are likely to correspondingly depress the price, the weakness is now less apparent than the strength, and there seems to be a good opportunity now for the market to recover.

The market upon the afternoon call was very little changed from the morning call, trading remaining light and the prices upon the whole firm. The day as compared with yesterday was some better. In the mines, Elkton was the most active, opening at $1.65½ and closing at $1.69, buyer 30. Anaconda was 41, Gold Dollar 16½, buyer 60, Isabella 68 and very light trading; Pointer 14½, Prince Albert 4¾, Portland sold at $3.02. In the prospects was nothing more than medium. Leon Consolidated 2, Montreal 3½, Bob Lee 4½, Eleanor 3, seller 30, Missouri 9½, Trachyte 7¼, Progress 4½. In the unclassified department Detroit was the most active trader, selling up its high as 7½. Acacia was 13½, Ben Hur 7, Battle Mountain 20½, Sedan weak at 9, Shannon 2½, and Zoe closed after light trading at 4.

The sales for the day amounted to 411,231, of which the cash value was $45,846 (2).

Naturalists' Clubs Among School Children.

The second direct movement in this nature-study enterprise was the organization of the children into what are called "Junior Naturalist clubs." Already there are 1,100 clubs, with a total enrolled membership of over 30,000 children. The idea is to get the children to do something for themselves. The club is theirs. The teacher is asked if she will encourage the organization of one or more clubs in her school. She suggests. It is the children and leaves it with them. They meet and organize and send the names of the members and officers to the Nature-Study Bureau at Ithaca. The club is named by its members. It may be "The Bright Eyes," "The Wide Awakes," "The Investigators," or named for the village or the teacher.

Each member pays dues twice each month; this payment consists of an essay or letter on what has been learned of nature life. This payment may be made by the very essay which the pupil wrote in its composition period. To the home office they come by the hundreds, and the children are encouraged to write as they think and feel. "Corrected" essays are not desired. Each payment of dues is checked up on the member's personal card, and those who meet their obligations promptly receive a neat "Junior Naturalist" button.—(From "Nature-Study on the Cornell Plan," by L. H. Bailey, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for April.

An Effort to Bring the School and the Home Together.

The gulf between parent and teacher is too common a phenomenon to need exposition. The existence of the chasm is probably due more to carelessness, to pressure of time, or to indolence than to any more serious delinquency; yet all will admit the disastrous effects that flow from the fact that there is not the close intellectual and spiritual sympathy that there should be between the school and the home.

Whether or not this failure of teacher and parent to come to a close and perfect measure of sympathetic co-operation is more prevalent or less prevalent in city than in country is not of great importance in this discussion. The purpose of this article is to describe very briefly an attempt which is being made in the State of Michigan to bridge the gulf—to create a common standing ground for both teacher and parent—and on that basis to carry on an educational campaign that it is hoped will result in the many desirable conditions which, a priori, might be expected from such a union. At present the movement is confined practically to the rural schools. It consists in the organization of a county "Teachers and Patrons' association" with a membership of teachers and school patrons, properly officered. Its chief method of work is to hold one or more meetings a year, usually in the country, or in small village, and the programme is designed to cover educational questions in such a way as to be of interest and profit to both teachers and farmers.—(From "Neighborhood Co-operation in School Life—the 'Hesperia Movement,'" by Kenyon L. Butterfield, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for April.

MARKET WAS REMARKABLE

TREMENDOUS TRANSACTIONS

Close Was a Buoyant and Spectacular Outburst Such as Was Never Before Witnessed.

New York April 19 Today's stock market was the most remarkable speculative era No only in the history of the Stock Exchange but in the annals of the trading the number of shares dealt in and the magnitude of the movement in prices were without precedent in the record Even in the wilderness of the general rapid movement manifest in the market and from almost any point of view the market was the most extraordinary event in the history of Wall Street

The feature of the market was the activity of the coal stocks of late and which was due to the reports of the heavy damage done to the mines by the floods Reading was the leader in the movement and the buying was on a scale of magnificence which was without parallel in the history of the Stock Exchange Reading sold from 76 to 88 and closed at 87 with the last sale at 88 Reading 1st preferred sold from 82 to 90 and closed at 89 with the last sale at 90 Reading 2d preferred sold from 70 to 80 and closed at 79 with the last sale at 80 Lehigh Valley sold from 72 to 82 and closed at 81 with the last sale at 82 Delaware & Hudson sold from 160 to 170 and closed at 169 with the last sale at 170 Pennsylvania sold from 60 to 64 and closed at 63 with the last sale at 64 Jersey Central sold from 110 to 120 and closed at 118 with the last sale at 120 Lackawanna sold from 170 to 180 and closed at 178 with the last sale at 180 Ontario & Western sold from 30 to 34 and closed at 33 with the last sale at 34 Pressed Steel Car sold from 40 to 48 and closed at 46 with the last sale at 48 Pullman sold from 190 to 210 and closed at 208 with the last sale at 210 Colorado Fuel & Iron sold from 30 to 38 and closed at 36 with the last sale at 38 Tennessee Coal & Iron sold from 70 to 78 and closed at 76 with the last sale at 78 Republic Iron & Steel sold from 30 to 38 and closed at 36 with the last sale at 38 Steel & Wire sold from 70 to 82 and closed at 80 with the last sale at 82 Rubber sold from 30 to 38 and closed at 36 with the last sale at 38 American Tobacco sold from 120 to 130 and closed at 128 with the last sale at 130 Consolidated Gas sold from 190 to 210 and closed at 208 with the last sale at 210 Brooklyn Rapid Transit sold from 60 to 68 and closed at 66 with the last sale at 68 Manhattan sold from 120 to 130 and closed at 128 with the last sale at 130 Metropolitan Street Railway sold from 180 to 190 and closed at 188 with the last sale at 190 Third Avenue sold from 110 to 120 and closed at 118 with the last sale at 120 Sugar sold from 120 to 130 and closed at 128 with the last sale at 130 Amalgamated Copper sold from 80 to 90 and closed at 88 with the last sale at 90 Smelting sold from 40 to 48 and closed at 46 with the last sale at 48 Atchison sold from 70 to 78 and closed at 76 with the last sale at 78 Atchison preferred sold from 90 to 98 and closed at 96 with the last sale at 98 Baltimore & Ohio sold from 90 to 98 and closed at 96 with the last sale at 98 Canadian Pacific sold from 110 to 120 and closed at 118 with the last sale at 120 Chesapeake & Ohio sold from 50 to 58 and closed at 56 with the last sale at 58 Chicago Great Western sold from 20 to 28 and closed at 26 with the last sale at 28 Chicago Milwaukee & St Paul sold from 140 to 150 and closed at 148 with the last sale at 150 Denver & Rio Grande sold from 30 to 38 and closed at 36 with the last sale at 38 Erie sold from 30 to 38 and closed at 36 with the last sale at 38 Illinois Central sold from 120 to 130 and closed at 128 with the last sale at 130 Louisville & Nashville sold from 80 to 88 and closed at 86 with the last sale at 88 Missouri Kansas & Texas sold from 20 to 28 and closed at 26 with the last sale at 28 Missouri Pacific sold from 70 to 78 and closed at 76 with the last sale at 78 New York Central sold from 120 to 130 and closed at 128 with the last sale at 130 Norfolk & Western sold from 40 to 48 and closed at 46 with the last sale at 48 Northern Pacific sold from 60 to 68 and closed at 66 with the last sale at 68 Northern Pacific preferred sold from 90 to 98 and closed at 96 with the last sale at 98 Pacific Mail sold from 40 to 48 and closed at 46 with the last sale at 48 Reading sold from 80 to 88 and closed at 86 with the last sale at 88 Southern Pacific sold from 60 to 68 and closed at 66 with the last sale at 68 Southern Railway sold from 30 to 38 and closed at 36 with the last sale at 38 Southern Railway preferred sold from 80 to 88 and closed at 86 with the last sale at 88 Texas & Pacific sold from 40 to 48 and closed at 46 with the last sale at 48 Union Pacific sold from 90 to 98 and closed at 96 with the last sale at 98 Union Pacific preferred sold from 90 to 98 and closed at 96 with the last sale at 98 Wabash sold from 20 to 28 and closed at 26 with the last sale at 28 Wabash preferred sold from 40 to 48 and closed at 46 with the last sale at 48 Western Union sold from 90 to 98 and closed at 96 with the last sale at 98 Wheeling & Lake Erie sold from 30 to 38 and closed at 36 with the last sale at 38 Wheeling & Lake Erie 2d preferred sold from 60 to 68 and closed at 66 with the last sale at 68

There was a market yesterday in the sense that there was a market but there was no business worth speaking of The market was entirely professional and the transactions were confined to a few of the more important stocks The values of these stocks were in each case determined today by the value of property whose shares were in each case dealt in yesterday and upon which the speculators are dependent for carrying the load which has been placed upon their shoulders The only thing which will serve to express the spirit of the speculation was the fact that the speculation was derived from an unbridled interest

The one feature of significance in the day's trading was the liquidation of the Burlington deal of course had a notable influence on sentiment but the significant thing was the comparatively incompetence of the traders to take advantage of the situation to realize and to make the Burlington movement in the Atlantic an effective factor in the market

The Baltimore & Ohio deal was also a feature of the day's trading The gains of late and which was due to the expectation that the control of the stock would be used to effect connection with the Pittsburg system were wiped out and the stock was the most conspicuous loser on the list

In the last week it was the traffic alliance which was the most talked about of the stocks and it was advanced 12 points on the strength of the report that J P Morgan & Co had secured a final block of 15 000 shares at 110 at the top price of the day In the last day or two the price has been forced up to 120 but the movement was largely professional and the buying was on a large scale only in the last hour when the shorts were forced to cover

There was a market yesterday in the coal stocks but it was a professional one

Bring them in the morning if you can
